The most common tapeworm found in dogs comes from fleas, so dogs must be treated for both infestations at the same time.

I say to you, I definitely get irked while people think about worries that they plainly don’t know about.

It sounds like your body had a really hard time, and is still not right.