nccs also excludes a small number of other organizations, such as foreign organizations or those that are generally considered part of government.